¹ GEMBA is a joint program with ESADE, a university in Spain, and tuition rate is set as a joint decision. FY18 actual tuition is for the cohort that started in June 2017. FY19 proposed tuition is for the cohort that will start in June 2018.

² Program has been discontinued.

⁴ Effective Fall 2018, the one-time transcript fee locks in the current cost of services and covers lifelong access to identified documents and services without an additional charge for standard processing. The fee is charged once per degree program in the first term of entry. Document fee-covered services include official transcripts, enrollment certification, and degree verification. Services not covered by the document fee are still subject to transaction fees. These include, but are not limited to FedEx charges, USPS international mailing charges, notary, duplicate diplomas, or rush ordering of diplomas. Additionally, students and alumni must clear all appropriate campus blocks/holds before obtaining transcript or diploma services.

⁵ College Materials Fees are pass-through charges to cover required materials for the fine arts, performing arts and other courses, and can vary significantly depending on the materials required.

⁷ Fees for study tours are pass-through charges to cover required local performance fees and travel and program expenses. They vary significantly due to the type of activity and location.

⁸ Fees for summer study abroad programs are pass-through charges to cover instructional costs, travel and program expenses. Fees vary significantly due to location and program length. Charges include both room and board.
